Sample Coats Near Half

Last Week Hundreds of Women Were Convinced That Our Coat Sale Saved Them Half. Another Lot of Similar Coats Will Arrive For This Sale.

ONE woman said, "Just think, warm winter Coats at half price—and winter is just here." The very fact that winter is "just here" is the reason we can offer these Coats at half price. The late autumn left heavy overstocks on the makers' hands—they were glad to close out for a small cash offer.

Styles are those that fashionable women prefer this season—low belted, flare skirt and swing back effects trimmed with velvet and buttons. As to the materials—you will find those you know for long service—Scotch mixtures, English coatings, cut chinchilla, chevot and caracal.

The colors, too, are most serviceable—browns, grays, blues, black, etc. They're all lengths—all sizes from 16 to 44. Indeed, these are Coats that you can depend on to give you comfort and smart appearance the entire season. Tailored to retail at up to $20—a new assortment here tomorrow at $6.79.

THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD.

By W. H. DAVIS.
During this year we have been appalled by the great destruction of life and property upon the land and upon the sea. Shipwrecks and earthquakes, tornadoes and floods, conflagrations and wars have visited very nearly all parts of the world and caused great destruction of life. May not these destructive elements be but warnings to man to remind him that he has fallen in his stewardship and the end is high even at the door? May it not be that we are forgetting our duty to God and to man? Can the highest duty that we owe to our fellow man be performed when we make a god of greed for material wealth? A man owes it to himself to make all that is possible of his intellectual powers. Intellectual strength is necessary that he may perceive more clearly his relations to his fellowman and to his God. He is the greatest philanthropist who is wise enough to see his fellow's needs and help him. Every man has a moral nature and a conscience. He owes it to himself to heed the demands of his moral nature. Whatever may be the definition of morals, the man who does right as he sees it and avoids the wrong, is living according to his highest conception of right and wrong and develops moral power. No immoral man can be to his fellowman what he should be. The cultivation of the spirit of brotherhood tends to eliminate selfishness, and when men are tolerant and respectful to others the result is peace, contentment and happiness. Whenever human action is inspired by avariciousness and greed, it produces misery, discontent and woe. There is little difficulty in the performance of duties we owe ourselves. The troubles of life center in the neglect to perform the obligations owed to others. Centuries ago men despoiled their neighbors by brute force. Today they scheme instead of fight, but prey upon one another just as in ancient times. One must help others. There is no complete and perfect independence. No one can live of, for and by himself. He must contribute to and acquire from others. This is the basic principle of human existence, but the contribution and the acquisition should be to prevent rather than to cause misery. Brethren, aside from the love and sympathy and care we foster for those of our faith, we have another duty to perform which is equally binding—that of helping to conserve the race. And the king said, "Is the young man Absalom safe?"

Our first stop was at Forrest Green, where we baptized six. The church is doing well and is spiritually alive. The second stop was at Warrensburg. Rev. A. W. Williams, pastor, is doing a great work there, getting his forces well organized and his work well in hand. We spent one week with him. The church and pastor are much encouraged. We solicited a box of groceries and sent to Western college. Our third stop was at Palmyra, Mo., where Rev. E. D. Greene, the pastor, is putting his soul into the work and looking forward for greater results. We visited the public schools, and our mind was called to the days in our mind was called to the great Western college because of the great Christian influence that exists there. We did not forget the Sun on our trip and the outlook is good.

Mrs. Benton Dean, the popular milliner, is now at 1010 Troost avenue, where she is elegantly located and will be extremely pleased to meet her many friends and customers at that number. Belle phone Main 2102J.

MASONIC HOME NOTES.

Hannibal, Mo.—The health of the inmates is good considering everything. The matron is making quite a strong plea to the courts and chapters for donations for the home... The superintendent has written several lodges to donate a pig a piece in order to replenish our swiney department. We expect to butcher five hogs soon. It would be quite a generous gift if each distinct deputy would work up a pig for the home from each district. We feel sure the M. W. G. M. approves of this idea... We are under many obligations to Princess Court No. 99, Warrensburg, for the following groceries: Four cans of corn, four cans of pears, four cans of tomatoes, one jar of pears, one can of sweet potatoes and one can of pork and beans. Mrs. Anna Johnson, matron... From Sister Kate Kash of St. Louis, Mo., for the following: Two pounds black eye peas, two pounds navy beans, one glass jelly, four cans of tomatoes, four cans of corn, two cans of peas, three pounds ground coffee, one sheet, one roller towel, and one counterpane... From Sister Dolly Stevens: One can corn; Brother George Lewis, a bundle of clothing. Keep the home in mind when making gifts. The unfortunate brothers and sisters who are now in the home once possibly had some of the world's comforts. You can't tell where you will terminate this world's career. Send gifts in care of the Masonic Home. Yours for a greater home gift, W. H. DIXON, Superintendent.
